Situation:

The 8683B/D and 8684B/D products have been obsoleted. The supporting calibration systems and manufacturing processes that produce many of the current support kits and assemblies are being discontinued. This will impact the availability of some field repair and retrofit kits as well as some replacement assemblies.

Solution/Action:

This service note summarizes which kits/assemblies will be available for support and if any alternatives are recommended. Additionally, some 868xA assemblies will be affected and are summarized in Figures 1 and 2.
